

The Northcoast Regional Land Trust presents an interactive workshop on

The North Coast Dialogues: Creating a 100-Year Vision for Our Future

Friday, November 13, 2009, 9:00 a.m.—12:00 p.m.

Humboldt Unitarian Universalist Fellowship, 24 Fellowship Way, Bayside

“By bringing our hearts and minds together around shared values, we are creating solutions to challenges that might otherwise prove insurmountable.”
--From Dialogues discussions, 2008

The world is changing and, with it, the rural way of life that has historically defined our region and its communities. How can we respond to these changes in ways that maintain what we value most about the North Coast, that strengthen our communities, improve the quality of our lives, and retain opportunities for future generations?

The Dialogues project was started by the Northcoast Regional Land Trust to establish a collective vision and to initiate collaborative actions that will shape the region’s future over the next 100 years. The current focus is on developing strategies for maintaining working lands and waters in Humboldt County.

The Workshop

At this interactive workshop we will explore:

- What the Dialogues has accomplished so far and how it relates to a broader range of community priorities;
- The capacity of our community to respond constructively to change;
- New approaches to resolving natural resource issues as a community.
